MOSCOW IS NEAR STARVATION NOW

Soviets Unable to Get Corn or Flour—Caucasus
in Rebellion.

(By the Associated Press)
RIGA, May 25.—Moscow is near a state of starvation according to a report from that city because peasants refuse to sell their corn and are keeping it for seed. The decree issued by the Bolshevik government does not seem to have removed the menace of a food shortage. Persons sent by the government to purchase corn are said to have returned empty handed and hope entertained by the soviets that they might obtain a supply of flour from the Caucasus was blasted by the Caucasus being in a state of rebellion.

Ada Man Disappears
From City Two Weeks
Ago Without a Word

Without saying a word to anyone, or giving instructions as to the care of his business, and without sending back word of any kind since, C. F. Constant disappeared more than two weeks ago from this city, after having established a watch repair and jewelry shop on West Main street.

He had rented a front corner of the Rowell Cafe and had just finished getting his outfit installed, signs painted and other necessary arrangements made for work. One job had been brought in, a small wrist watch on which he was working when last seen.

Mr. Rowell, proprietor of the cafe, has been watching for the man's return for the past two weeks, and when Monday of this week found no word from him he notified the county attorney. The watches and other articles left on display and on his work bench, were put away by Mr. Rowell who found several letters addressed to Constant.

One of these letters was from a brother at Corsicana, Texas, and others were postmarked at Shawnee. His brother at Corsicana will be notified and steps taken to find him.

Petition Is Filed
to Have County Jail
Here Condemned

W. B. Matthews of Oklahoma City state commissioner of charities and correction, has been in the city for a few days looking after some wards of the state, who have property in this county. While in the city he made a thorough investigation of the county jail, having condemned it several times before, and filed a petition in district court to have the jail condemned as a public nuisance.

He is said to have been very emphatic in his statement that the place was unfit for a jail and that immediate steps should be taken to put it in a better condition. He also stated that a new jail was badly needed by the county.

Other inspections were made but nothing else is reported as having been condemned by him. It has not yet been announced as to what will be done about the jail being condemned, but it is expected that action on the question will be taken soon.

NORMAL SETTLES
DOWN TO BUSINESS

Classes Begin Work for Summer; Enrollment Is Growing.

With the enrollment steadily nearing the 1000 mark, classes well organized and making their first assignments on schedule time, every faculty member with his work outlined, most of the preliminary troubles eliminated and everybody in the highest spirits, the East Central State College is looking forward to the greatest summer school in its entire history.

The enrollment early Wednesday morning was 982, and several others had sent word of their intention to enroll. Every class and course offered is being filled and in several instances classes are being divided into two sections on account of the crowded conditions. It was thought before the beginning of the term that the enrollment would reach the 1000 mark, but it is now believed by those in charge, that it will exceed even this large number.

Among the students are many who have attended the normal before, but a host of new faces are to be seen. Already the halls are crowded and the noise accompanying the bustle of the school room is much in evidence. Every department is receiving a share of the students' attention and those in charge kept busy.

Prof. R. R. Robinson announced today that the enrollment in the training school had reached the maximum, 123. No vacancies in any department are reported and a force of 36 practice teachers is required to care for the pupils. These 36 practice teachers are under the supervision of critic teachers.

Prof. A. L. Fentem of the Ada High school announced that the orchestra held its first meeting today with 12 instruments included. These consisted of five violins, one cornet, one saxophone, two trombones, two drums and a piano. Work for the term is being started this week.

Miss McClure head of the foreign language department, reports a good enrollment and states that considerable interest is being shown in the three languages offered, French, Latin and Spanish. She is being assisted by Miss Albert Carney.

It was announced today that the school annual, "The Pesagi" would not be off the press until the latter part of the week.

The president's office is one of the busiest places in the entire school. It is here that all the big troubles and complaints of both faculty and students are carried.

Lectures, musical entertainments, campus events and other activities for the summer school will not be extensive this summer, according to an unofficial report. The work offered will leave little time for these things, it is believed. However, several interesting programs have been planned which are to be given during the coming weeks.

Alfalfa Mill Operating and in Need of Railroad Facilities.

The M., K. & T. railroad building crew is today at work on the joint track to the industrial addition to the city of Ada. It is expected that the work will be finished in two or three days, and the alfalfa feed mill will then be in position to ship direct from its doors.

This work is the culmination of the labors of Secretary O. N. Walker, of the Chamber of Commerce, beginning last January. On account of the war rules which were in force for several years, the railroad officials took the position that they could not bear the expense of the track, but that it would have to be borne by the industries. Mr. Walker, however, persuaded them that it was up to the railroads to carry out the contract entered into with the Chamber of Commerce. The Katy is in charge, but the cost will be borne equally by the three lines.

Katy Begins Work of Extending the Tracks
for New Industries

The first earth was turned today for the extension of the Katy tracks in this city and it will be pushed to completion as the wholesale companies are anxious to start the erection of their business houses here.

The other switch on the west side will be extended only a block, where it will serve as an unloading place for the wholesale grocery house and the Sutherland Lumber Company's yard.

It is reported that this will be all the trackage to be laid in the city limits by the Katy people at the present time. This will make it necessary to put two more tracks across the East Main pavement.

Crop Conditions in Pontotoc County Are Good, Agent Reports

Prospects for a bumper crop in all lines are better at this time than they have been in several years and crop conditions over the county are fine according to a statement made by J. B. Hall, the county agent today. "Good weather conditions is all that is needed to make a record breaking yield," he said.

"The cotton acreage for this year has been reduced nearly 40 per cent," he continued. "The stand of cotton in Pontotoc county is the best ever seen and very favorable reports are being received at my office from all parts of the county to this effect. The present outlook for an enormous cotton yield for the acreage is very good."

Other crops mentioned were corn, winter barley, alfalfa and other feed crops. He stated that feed crops that ordinarily yield big in this county had been planted extensively by Pontotoc county farmers in the place of cotton. Corn, he said was not as good as has been seen, this being due to the late frosts and freezes killing the first planting. However, the corn is looking good, altho very small for this time of year.

He also stated that winter barley, a new crop for the county, having been introduced here only a few years ago, is making a fine showing, and that the acreage this year had been greatly increased. Much alfalfa has been planted and farmers are preparing to plant more this fall. At the present time farmers are busy cutting their first crop of alfalfa this year, as the early crop was destroyed by the freeze. Alfalfa at this time is good and a heavy crop is reported.

The sugar beet seed, which was distributed among farmers in the county early this year, is now up and plants are growing. It is believed that the venture will be a success and those who are backing the experiment are confident that it will become a leading crop for this section of the country. The conditions of other crops is good and the farmers are all pleased with the prospects for a bumper crop this year.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Lillian Moller Gilbreth is one woman who can laugh at the old-fashioned idea that a woman must choose between motherhood and a career, for her name appears as "industrial psychologist" in the "Who's Who" just below that of her husband, Frank Bunker Gilbreth, who is a consulting engineer. She, however, would have it put the other way round, children first, career second.

She has been called by many the new woman who lives in a "shoe" but she seems to know very well what to do and the cares of rearing a family of ten children seem to rest lightly on her. She is a graduate of the University of California and also has a Ph. D. degree which she received at Brown when her fifth child was a baby.

Mrs. Gilbreth is author of some authoritative books on psychology of management, time study, fatigue study, applied motion study and other industrial questions. Her scientific attainments and contributions to scientific management were recently acknowledged by the Society of Industrial Engineers, which gave her an honorary membership.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 23.—Far-reaching plans to regrow the forests are under consideration by the Central States Forestry League according to David L. Goodwillie, president of the League, in a statement calling attention to this week, set aside by President Harding as Forestry week. "The forestry problem," said Mr. Goodwillie, "is of such great size and importance to the Central States that we have simply had to go to the matter fundamentally and along broad, constructive lines. We propose now a widespread campaign of education, through the eight states of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, which comprise the Central Forestry League. In these states are over 50 million acres of cut-over timberlands, unused and unproductive. They are a terrible burden upon us in these times of heavy taxes, and the worst is their area is increasing instead of diminishing.

"At the same time the great wood-using industries of the country which largely center in these states are having to go farther and farther for their supplies. To a large extent they now go to the Pacific coast. It comes home to us in increased prices due to the necessarily increased freight rates. Every house we build, every piece of furniture, every newspaper and every book we buy, costs more, a great deal more, because of this condition.

In organizing the Central States Forestry League we have endeavored to see this problem in its true proportions and to realize the big, earnest effort that must be put forth by the States and by the people to get trees growing back on the lands where they belong. We want a great wave of enthusiasm for tree planting.

"The problem has many phases. Roadside tree planting is one. We strongly endorse the planting of roadside memorial trees. The farmer's wood lot is another phase of the question. The great stretches of devastated timberlands is another and the largest of all. We have in Illinois over three million acres of timber lands much of which is fire damaged and in very bad condition."

One of the objects of the League is to concentrate the energies of the public in a determined movement through sound legislation and otherwise to prevent forest fires in standing timber.

YOUNG JAPS TOO BUSY PLAYING BALL TO WORRY

(By the Associated Press.)

TOKIO, April 30.—While their fathers are gravely discussing the serious problems of international relations, the young men of Japan, weary of the never-ending discussion and with perfect assimilation of the great American game, are devoting themselves to baseball. Strange to say, baseball has so developed in Nippon that it may be said now to be the great national game of the Empire. Where other countries of the west have failed to assimilate the diversion of the diamond, amongst the oriental people of Japan, 10,000 miles from New York, baseball has distinctly "caught on."

If any American baseball fans come to Japan and call at the headquarters of The Associated Press, the correspondent will show them some of the finest amateur baseball playing at his very door. Just down the street, which is bordered with doll-like Japanese houses, and right under the shadow of the noble shrine of Emperor Mutsuhito, which was built after years of labor by thousands of the men of Japan, lies the great military field of Yoyogi. It is here that the young men of Tokio assemble on Saturday afternoons and Sundays, wearing the regulation American playing costume, from cap to spiked boots. So extensive is the field that some dozen games can be played at the same time, high nets being erected behind the home-plates to stop the straying balls.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 318 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

"Romeo and Juliet" is to be screened again. This will be the fourth time the ill-starred lovers have been put on the silver sheet. John L. Golden is making the film production of "Romeo and Juliet," with Hale Hamilton and Grace La Rue in the leading parts.

Winchell Smith is writing the continuity and will direct the picture. Joe Schenck, famed equally as a film producer and husband of Norma Talmadge, will be associated in the venture.

This is the fourth picture of the Shakespearean tragedy made by an American film company. The first was done by Edwin Thanhouser in the early days of the industry. Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne made one for Essanay some years ago; and about the same time Fox presented Theda Bara in a version with Harry Hilliard as her Romeo.

Work on the picture will start as soon as the scenario is finished.

At present Miss La Rue and Hamilton are appearing on Broadway in the comedy drama, "Dear Me."

LOUISE HUFF RETURNS.

Louise Huff is the fortunate young woman selected to play opposite George Arliss in his first United Artists production, "Disraeli." Miss Huff has been starred in her own right and has a flock of fan admirers. Reginald Denny is another member of the cast.

SHE SAILS THE OCEAN BLUE

Carol Dempster, the vivacious young dancer of "Dream Street," has gone to Europe. So quietly did she make her departure that even her best friends did not know she had gone until they received a cablegram from England. Miss Dempster is chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grey.

SHADOWS OF THEIR PASTS

About ten years ago at the Vitagraph studio the romance of Anne Boleyn and Henry VIII was filmed. It was called "Cardinal Wolsey." The two principal parts were played by Clara Kimball Young and Telford Johnson. It took but two reels to unwind this familiar tale, and it was Miss Young's first appearance on the screen.

years old are enthusiastic over the game and, with miniature bats and make-shift balls, gather in corners of the field which the maneuvering soldiers of Japan are not occupying and indulge in the great game.

Americans who have come to Japan in recent years agree that the Japanese have made wonderful progress in baseball, and marvel at their skill in a game so essentially American. All the big universities of the empire have their own carefully trained teams. So great has become the national interest that it was recently announced that a group of wealthy men would organize a school for the training of professional players with the idea of sending them abroad to meet all-comers.

FARMERS TO TAKE OVER STRING OF STORES IS REPORT

Farmers in 31 of the communities in which these stores are located have already organized local cooperative companies and have arranged to take them over. Only three of the stores have been definitely abandoned, Mr. Reichert said.

The affairs of the stores company as a whole will probably be settled before the end of the year, provided crops in the state are good and a fair number of stockholders are able to pay money due on their stock in the organization, the receiver said. The money remaining when all debts are paid will be divided among paid up stock holders.

Books show the assets to be $1,001,801 as opposed to liabilities of $298,866 but allowance must be made for a great amount of shrinkage in the assets, Mr. Reichert said. More than $680,000 of the assets are in unpaid notes of the farmer-stockholders.

Texas Lady Suffered With Pulling and Aching Pains in Her Back, Which Cardui Relieved.

Houston, Texas.—Mrs. C. D. Cook, of 1912 Whitty Street, this city, recently said: "About four months after my marriage, I... began suffering much pain, and knew that my condition was unusual, but couldn't just decide what was wrong. I had to go to bed...."

"All across my back and hips were pains, pulling and aching until I could hardly sit up. I stayed in bed a few days. My husband had heard of Cardui... so I told him he might get it."

"After I had taken Cardui a few days, I was up. I took five bottles and haven't been in bed since for this trouble, for if I have the least symptoms of this trouble I get Cardui and take it in time."

"I have a number of friends who have used Cardui, and they recommend it very highly."

The experience of this Texas lady is similar to that related by thousands of other women.

Cardui is purely vegetable, and mild and gentle in its action. Cardui may be the very medicine you need if suffering with womanly troubles.

KEEP IT AT HOME

"The South will never have any money," commented one of Ada's leading business men this morning, as he watched a string of new cars go down the street. "As soon as we get a little money, we send it north to buy manufactured articles."

The man is not a pessimist, but is distinctly of the opposite mood. He realizes that the South is rich in natural resources and that from an agricultural point of view it has no equal under the sun. What he meant to say is that the only way the South can expect to grow rich is by building manufacturing plants at home.

And why should they not be built here? Why should Ada not have a cotton mill? So far as we are able to determine, the only attempt to manufacture cotton goods in Oklahoma has proved a success. Over in the Carolinas cotton manufacturing is one of the chief sources of income. Oklahoma is no less favorably located. It is true we do not have the water power, but we have natural gas, a product just as valuable.

We agree that the South will never come into her own until she builds factories, but we believe we are in the eve of great developments along this line. Cotton goods, automobiles, tires, trucks, farm implements, and other essentials of an agricultural region will in the not distant future be manufactured in Oklahoma, more particularly the southeastern part.

"CONCEAL AND EVADE"

The American Federation of Labor, headed by Samuel Gompers, declares that "reaction is doing its best to conceal and evade" the paramount issues before the American people which are:

"The league of nations, protection of the people against profiteers, relation of government to the aspirations of workers; use of the injunction as a means of compelling workers to obey the will of employers; the high cost of living; establishment of arbitrary tribunals and boards to coerce workers, repress their normal and legitimate activities and clog the processes of industry by artificial methods; the right of workers to organize for mutual advancement and development and to withdraw their service when terms and conditions of service are oppressive.

"On these issues must America decide. The American people never willingly go back."

The league of nations question will be finally settled as our people direct. When it comes to profiteering the American Federation of Labor is guilty through artificially forced wages strikes and decreased production. Relation of government to aspirations of workers according to Mr. Gompers' construction would mean that the American Federation of Labor would dominate the government. The use of the injunction is not to compel radical workmen to work but to prevent them from destroying life and property and keeping others from working. The high cost of living can be laid largely at the door of the American Federation of Labor which has stood for a policy of decreased production at greatly increased wages. Boards to coerce workers and repress their normal activities is a misleading phrase; the reference is to such organizations as the Kansas Industrial Court which is for the purpose of settling labor disputes without strikes. Such courts do away with the job of the labor agitator and prevent by legal process, conspiracies to hold up the public such as we witnessed in the coal, railroad and similar strikes. The right of workers to organize or quit work when conditions are oppressive has never been denied but the American Federation of Labor claims the right to enforce its arbitrary demands by calling a strike at any time, regardless of public welfare, to force compliance from any industry which opposes its ultimatums.

"Mr. Gompers is mistaken in his last statement that 'The American people never willingly go back.' They are going back now to the principles of government as laid down in our constitution where every man is guaranteed equal rights and where no arbitrary labor dictators can say who can and who cannot work. It is the laboring men themselves who are tired of radical dictation which costs them dearly in lost time.

GUARANTY AGAINST DECLINE

The Federal Trade Commission conducted an extensive inquiry concerning the practice of manufacturers in guaranteeing commodities in the hands of wholesalers, against decline in price. As a result the commission will consider each case of complaint separately, basing its decisions on the facts in each instance; instead of attempting to lay down a general policy.

WOMEN HOSTESSES IN THE ARMY

A questionnaire recently sent to commanding generals in the army asked: "Does the presence of women hostesses in army camps contribute to the military efficiency of the army?" The answers have been invariably, yes.

Having taken all the profit out of railroad stocks by restrictive legislation, many blame investors for not putting money enough into the roads so they can buy needed equipment.

Asher Bridge.

Shawnee News: Travel over the Asher bridge route is growing every day now, indicating that before summer is well upon us that it will be the popular north and south route.

Burleson in Berlin.

Fort Worth Record: Former Postmaster General Alert Sidney Burleson is being lionized in Berlin. He crossed the Atlantic and invaded Germany to organize or create a market for Texas cotton. There are thousands of farmers in Burleson's old congressional district who are of Teutonic origin. They are prosperous, law abiding and thrifty citizens. Most of them have bank accounts. They need a market for their cotton and Albert Sidney is over there to place it.

Thanks.

Shawnee News: The announcement from Marvin Brown that he has disposed of all his interest in the Ada Evening News and will retire does not come as a surprise to his fellow publishers as it has been known for some time that a change was liable to occur at any time. William Dee Little will become the publisher and will have a number of Ada business men interested with him. Mr. Little was connected with the News during the editorship of Byron Norrell. Marvin Brown has made a newspaper of the News that has been quoted far and wide and has given the people of Ada a newspaper worthy of a city of double the size, a policy which benefits a city far more than the publisher.

Fuel and Foreign Trade.

Dallas News: The frank statement by the president of the United States to the senate that oil is the disturbing element in the friendly relations of this country with Mexico was published on the same day that brought out an article under a New York date line to the effect that we are on the point of permanently putting the British coal trade with Europe out of business. Our insistence upon the opportunity for our nationals to obtain oil in Mexico, British and Dutch possessions on terms of equality with their respective citizens is concurrent with our policy of tariff on crude oil imports. The intense necessity of our obtaining oil from abroad is somewhat belied by our insistence upon a tariff whose tendency is to keep it out.

Another paradox which we present is our anxiety at the prospect of the exhaustion of our petroleum supplies at the very time that we are boasting of our being about to supply the world with our coal to such an extent as to force the British miner out of business. We speak of coal mining as "production," and in one sense it is. But we can not get away from the fact that mining is really exhaustion. While individuals may profit from putting the collieries of Great Britain out of business, it can not be said that the nation as a whole will be any better off.

Nor will we have any ultimate or satisfying advantage in the crippling of Great Britain which would be implied in wiping out her coal trade, assuming that we will be able to do such a thing. As one of the great industries of England, mining furnishes the "tight little isle" with the means of buying much of our raw material which we are at some pains just now to get off our hands. If we exhaust our natural resources, at the same time impoverishing one of our best customers, can we be said to have gained anything?

Robert P. Brewer.

Hugo News: One does not have to point to Andrew Carnegie, Vanderbilt, Gould, Lincoln, or a host of other Americans of like calibre to exemplify the fact that America is a land where opportunity awaits all who are willing to pay the price of success.

Robert P. Brewer, while not attaining the heights reached by such luminaries as those mentioned, is a living example of domestic America. And he absolutely refutes the theory that the days for great achievements are about gone.

His father, Dr. Theodore Brewer, came to Oklahoma in the early days and was a pioneer in missionary and school work. Perhaps the visions his father dreamed and the obstacles he overcame gave to the boy many of those enduring qualities which make for success.

Robert, like his father, blazed a trail, taking the path of finance where his father had intensified on religion and education.

The history of Robert Brewer is well known to Southeastern Oklahoma people. Beginning in a small way as a banker, by scrupulous honesty far-sightedness and a steady perspective he has risen spectacularly in the world, achieving the position of president of the state's largest bank within a short space of years.

Robert Brewer had the handicap of meager funds but he had advantages great enough to surmount that difficulty—he had a strong ambition and a will to succeed.

Bolshevik and radical tendencies will not find root in America so long as it is possible to do as Robert Brewer has done.

Subsidizing the Magazines

McAlester News-Capital: The Philadelphia Record rightly characterizes the bill for the repeal of the postal zone law on second class matter as an attempt to "subsidize the magazines," and comments as follows:

"What possible reason can be offered why the government should carry weekly and monthly magazines from Philadelphia and New York to San Francisco and Seattle and Portland at a good deal less than cost? It charges a good deal more than

FILM SMILES

There is still a string to the family budget system that does not include money for the movies.

Cupid seems to be promoting a life extension movement through film titles. One says: "You Can't Kill Love," and another declares, "Love Never Dies." We shall see.

The Sure Cure
Actor in New York, betrayed to the law by his troupe of three wives, says:

"If a girl likes you too well, marry her."

Film censors put "The Burden of Proof" on the screen. One photoplay, giving up in advance, pleads, "I Am Guilty."

Eugene O'Brien, the Selznick star, opines that some people are finding times hard only in comparison to when they were soft.

Oddly enough, nobody has yet blamed the movies for the tied-al wave of bigamy that is just now sweeping the sea of matrimony.

It has taken "Get-Rich Quick" Wallingford a long time to find, in moving pictures, a field for his operations.

Side Glances at Films

cost to carry letters; why should it tax the country to carry weekly and monthly magazines across the continent?

"When Dean Richmond was at the head of the New York Central, a boy asked him for a pass to his home town. Richmond could assume a very terrible aspect; and, looking as awful as he could, he roared at the youngster: 'Why do you want a pass?' The boy was so terrified that he forgot the speech he had learned for the occasion, and blurted out: 'Because I don't want to pay.' Dean Richmond remarked, in the adoration of President Harding, 'by the eternal' or its equivalent, that this was the first time any one had ever told the truth in asking for a pass, and he gave the boy his free ride.

"The publishers of the weekly and monthly magazines don't want to pay what it actually costs the government to carry their publications to distant points, and many of them are heavy contributors to republican campaign funds and expect a return from a republican congress for their generosity. To oblige them, Mr. Mondell has introduced a bill to repeal the postal zone law on second-class mail.

"This zone law is just, but it is also generous. It probably does not make the postage of magazines to distant points remunerative to the government, but it is just in that it approaches that. It makes the postage greater for the longer distances. No one can reasonably question the fairness of that. The object of repealing the zoning law is to give the magazine publishers an average rate, though the haul is a great deal more than the average. The average haul of all second-class matter, including newspapers, is about 200 miles. But the average haul on country weeklies is not over 50 miles, and on daily papers of most of the cities it is not over 75 miles, and of the largest of the daily newspapers it is under 150 miles. It is obvious, therefore, that if the average haul of all second class matter, including newspapers is abolished, they can get a great deal more than the average haul at an average rate. This would be worth millions to the periodical publishers. But the averaging involves giving the periodical publishers a great deal more than they pay for, and making things even by giving the publishers of newspapers, whose circulation is mostly local, a great deal less than they pay for."

There is absolutely no merit in the proposition to abolish the zoning law. It's only effect—and this is the purpose of the proposed repeal—is to add millions to the profits of the periodical publishers at the expense either of newspapers or of the general taxpayers of the country. It is as indefensible as it would be to vote money out of the treasury to these periodical publishers; for it is manifestly the same thing to the government to keep money from going into the treasury as to let it go in and then vote it out.

This bill to repeal the zoning law is a bill to pay a heavy subvention to one class of publishers, the publishers of the weekly and monthly magazines of wide circulation, by transporting their editions for less than cost.

One case of drunkenness was the only business before the mayor in police court this morning. The offender was given the regulation fine and costs for violation of the city ordinance against inebriation. The police court blotter has been rather shy of cases since the big round-up of Saturday night when several dozen offenders were apprehended by the local officers and arraigned before the mayor.

Lady Glenconder Soon to Wed Viscount Grey, London Report

LONDON, May 23.—(Special)—Lady Glenconder, author, musician, once noted beauty and a six month's widow, is soon to become the bride of Viscount Grey of Fallodon, according to a widely circulated rumor among their friends. Her first husband, Baron Glenconder, was a brother of Mrs. Asquith.

Lady Glenconder is a spiritualist, and in her latest book, "The Earthly Vessel," published in January of this year, tells of a spirit message she received from her son Edward who was killed in the war. She writes that in one of the spirit messages sent her Edward referred her to page 27 of a book in the library of a country house. Looking up the volume she read on page 27 this message:

"What would I not give to be with you and comfort you, dearest mother."

The famous medium, Mrs. Osborne Leonard, through whom the message came, had never been in the house mentioned. It is most unlikely that she knew of the existence of the book in the library. This is only one of a number of similar so-called "book tests." Sir Oliver Lodge says in his preface:

"The new spirit scheme to get messages through to us from the other side cannot be attributed to any ordinary variety of subconscious activity on the part of the medium and the person receiving the messages. There is even evidence that the reading matter of the next day's newspapers can be perceived and dictated by spirits, provided the material is already set in type."

Lady Glenconder leads the aristocratic, intellectual set in psychic research.

Viscount Grey, who has been foreign secretary and was special ambassador to the United States in 1919, is a widower. His first wife, whom he married in 1895, died fifteen years ago. There is no heir to the viscounty.

MONEY COULD NOT BUY GOOD IT DID

"I wouldn't take all the money in the universe for the good Tanlac did my wife," said Walter B. Erion, 4425 E. 10th St., Little Rock, Ark. Mr. Erion is an inspector for the Iron Mountain Railroad.

"For seven years she suffered almost beyond description with stomach trouble. She lost her appetite and just wasted away until she was not much more than a shadow of her former self and barely had strength enough to get around. I believe she was the most nervous person on earth and got little rest day or night. I was worried about her for years and had given up hope of ever seeing her well again."

"Tanalac was a revelation to us. It did what I didn't think was possible. My wife today is in perfect health and has been for two years, for it was two years ago Tanlac restored her health. She has gained forty pounds in weight, all of which she had lost during her long spell of ill health. She has the best kind of appetite, her digestion couldn't be improved and her nervousness is gone. Tanlac certainly brought the sunshine back to our home. There is no doubt in my mind that it is the best medicine ever made."

A New Back for an Old One—How an Ada Resident Made a Bad Back Strong

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Ada citizen.

S. T. Carington, retired farmer, W. Sixth St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a lot of good several years ago and I am always glad to recommend them highly since then. Doan's relieved the backache and regulated my kidneys in fine shape. I use them once in awhile now and always with good results."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Carington had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ELSIE JANIS IS REPORTED ENGAGED

such wells on their premises. There are an abundance of water both for agricultural and domestic purposes.

Agriculture, stock raising and mining constitute the principal and leading industries of the county. A large portion of the prairie region is left to wild grasses. The climate is especially adapted to hog raising while many farmers are specializing in the raising of sheep. According to acreage the leading crops are hay, oats, corn and wheat.

Zinc, granite and tripoli are found in the eastern portion of the county. In the northern part there is a coal deposit and oil in the western part has been discovered. Timber is found in the southeastern part in large quantities.

The main lines of two railways traverse the county making transportation facilities adequate. The county roads and highways are generally in good condition except in the extremely wet weather.

Rainfall of the county is heavy, the five year average standing at 40.90 inches.

THE U.S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

"As in the greatest cities so in his own home town—the U. S. Tire user gets fresh, live tires of current production."

"In every section, however remote, you find a dealer in fresh, live U. S. Tires."

These Better Tires Are Now Lower Priced

Two important factors underlie the remarkable values now offered in Goodyear Tires and Tubes. One is the many improvements made in them during the past few months; the other is the price reductions we have just put into effect.

A conspicuous example of the values now to be had in Goodyear Tires is our clincher type 30x3½-inch Goodyear Cord Tire. This first quality product—one of the most durable and efficient tires we ever built—can be bought today from Goodyear Service Station Dealers for only

GOOD YEAR

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

Flanders War Orphans Make Poppies for American-Franco Children's League

Some of the children who made the poppies with which the American and French hero dead will be honored on Memorial Day.

On a day early this spring the ruins of an old chapel in Flanders buzzed with the hum of unusual activity. Children, some frail and rather worn, and women whose faces were lined and whose shoulders were bent, came from cellars, homes and impoverished dwellings and gathered at a broken stairway leading to a chapel vestibule. Then came a nun, who held up a hand that hushed them into silence, and said:

"My children, the privilege of helping France has come to us in our weakness and our poverty. We are to have the honor of making the flower that will be worn in both America and France in memory of the beloved ones who gave their lives while fighting on our soil."

She told them of the "War a Poppy" movement, which had met with general approval, and of the adoption by patriotic societies of both nations of the red poppy, of Flanders Fields as the tribute flower to be worn on Memorial Day.

The women and children set to work. Since then millions of replicas in silk of the Flanders poppy have been made and shipped to America. They will be worn on Memorial Day, and the proceeds from their sale will go to the American-Franco Children's League, an organization of men and women prominent in the philanthropic work of both nations, to be used in relief work among the children in the war torn areas of France. The movement has been endorsed by the National Information Bureau in this country, and by President Millerand, of France.

PHILIPPINES HAVE MORE EXPORTS THAN IMPORTS

(By the Associated Press.)

MANILA, P. I., April 1.—(Delayed)—The balance of trade during the calendar year of 1920 was in favor of the Philippine Islands, the exports exceeding the imports by approximately $1,684,000, according to the reports of the customs bureau just made public.

The total exports for the year amounted to approximately $151,123,000 and the imports to $149,439,000, compared with exports of $113,000,000 and imports of $118,000,000 during the year 1919. The exports of sugar were the largest of any single product, being $49,000,000 for the year 1920.

Goods imported into the Philippines from the United States during 1920 amounted to $92,280,000, in value and exports of Philippine products to the United States amounted to approximately $105,000,000, making the total trade between the two countries approximately $195,000,000 for the year. Japan was second in the total trade with the Philippines, the value of the business being approximately $24,000,000.

American ships carried $129,800,000 worth of the business, of the islands, while British ships came second transporting merchandise valued at $108,000,000. During the year 992 vessels of the total net tonnage of 2,755,752 entered the ports of the Philippine Islands.

WATER SUPPLY IS SERIOUS PROBLEM

City's Growth Has System
Beyond Is Carrying Capacity.

That the water situation in Ada is unsatisfactory and that it bids fair to become very serious before the summer is ended is the opinion of the city commissioners. There has been some discussion of the water supply for some time, and when an Evening News reporter called at the city hall this morning, Commissioners Smith and Jones spoke of the situation as bidding fair to become a serious problem.

"There is nothing wrong with the water supply at the spring," said Mr. Smith. "The supply at the spring is just as abundant as ever. The distributing system in the city has been so improved that it is now practically perfect. The only trouble is that the city has outgrown the capacity of the pipe line and the pumping facilities at the spring."

Most people fail to realize, perhaps, how rapidly Ada is growing. Our force is now kept busy putting in new water taps, the additional number of taps running about fifteen a week, on an average. This increased demand on the water supply has the inevitable effect of reducing the pressure all over the city.

There is nothing to the rumor that the new city reservoir will not hold water, declared the commissioners. The only trouble is that the pumps are kept busy all the time to keep the city supplied with water and no time can be found to fill the reservoir. The two compartments of the reservoir will hold 2,000,000 gallons, and in the opinion of Mr. Smith it would take about two weeks to fill one compartment, pumping at the odd hours that may be found for that purpose.

The new swimming pool at the city park is now ready to be filled with water and just how to find time to pump the 150,000 gallons required to fill the pool is another problem that is giving the commissioners some concern.

To supply the industrial concerns of the city with water from the city lake is suggested by the commissioners as a possible temporary remedy for the existing trouble. The smaller of the two city standpipes is not being used at present and it is suggested that this standpipe could be filled with water from the lake and utilized as a source of supply for the industries. This project however would entail a cost of about $20,000 necessary for additional piping and pumping facilities and the city lacks the money to make the improvements.

In the judgment of the commissioners the only trouble with the city water system is the inadequate pipe line and pumps. The original line was sufficient for a city of 5,000 population, but it is not sufficient for a city of 12,000. Ada has simply outgrown its supply line, according to the commissioners.

GOAT SIZING UP
NEW YORK'S CROWD

GOATS CLIMB TO
HIGHEST AVAILABLE POINT.

United States has Canada's goat, two of 'em in fact. They were natives of the Canadian Rocky Mountains' Park, of which Banff is the capital, and are noted for their agility as mountain climbers. This nimble-footed pair have been moved to the famous Bronx Park Zoo in New York City, where they will be gazed upon with interest by millions who have not been so fortunate as to glimpse them among their native rocks.

"If they ever get out of Bronx Park," said an ex-guide from Banff, "you better watch out for 'em on the sixty-fourth floor winders of your Woolworth Tower. I've seen 'em go up mountain sides that no other livin' animal could climb."

These two goats have long white heads with spike horns and wear an expression of almost human intelligence and an air of being bored. They were brought to New York by Howard Sibbald, Chief Fire Ranger and Game Inspector of the Rocky Mountains' Park, who also delivered to the Zoo four of the famous Big Horn Sheep, also known as Rocky Mountain Sheep.

The Rocky Mountains' Park in which Banff is situated, is a sanctuary for wild animal life and it is no unusual sight to see sheep, goats, deer and elk roaming about the outskirts of this popular mountain resort. The inhabitants of Banff pay little attention to these four-footed visitors, unless they threaten the gardens, but visitors go into ecstasies of delight upon meeting these animals unexpectedly. Hunting in the park is prohibited and a heavy fine attaches to the shooting of game, this fact seems to be sensed by the animals, who appear quite fearless of man.

"The way we do when we want to get some of these fellows," said Mr. Sibbald, "is to make big corrals of wire fencing and lure them in by salt, which they are always anxious to get. We use salt for a few days until they get confidence, and then the mountain sheep and goats go into corrals. There is always some difficulty in transforming them into express packages, but it not so hard. I brought these fellows down by express, each animal in its own crate."

New York will present Banff with other animals in exchange and it is quite likely that the Rocky Mountains' Park will soon number among its protected game various species hitherto unknown to that territory.

W. G. Crump Here.

W. G. Crump of the Mecca Oil and Gas company of Oklahoma City is in the county today, looking over the field in company with other oil men. Mr. Crump's company is drilling a well near Stonewall in section 7-2-8. He reports that operations were held up for a couple of days, but that drilling is now in progress at around 400 feet. This well is in good looking territory, according to many geological reports.

Tulsa Interstate Man Here.

Robert J. Dickson of the Tulsa Interstate Petroleum Company of Tulsa is looking over the field northwest of the city today and will also make a trip to the southeastern part. He says he has nothing to give out now, but may have some announcements shortly.

Syndicate Well Installing Engine.

The well of the Carter-Lowery-La Salle syndicate in 32-5-5 is having water trouble. The creek is not furnishing as much water as necessary. To guard against any further trouble, the syndicate is installing a natural gas engine and will use gas from the well. In this way little water will be needed and pumping will not be interfered with.

The Wherefore of Our "Oil Diplomacy."

(San Antonio Express.)

A report has been prepared by Chief Geologist White of the geological survey, and other experts of that bureau, on the oil situation throughout the world. This report soon will be presented to the president by Secretary McFall of the interior department, by whose direction it has been made. From statistics gathered by the survey and other government bureaus, several deductions may be made, of great interest to every American.

From the best sources of information available, the survey believes that the total oil reserves of the world amount to about 42,000,000,000 barrels. The oil reserves of the United States, including Alaska, are calculated at some 7,000,000,000 barrels, which is a little less than one-sixth of the whole. The rest is distributed, roughly, as follows: Mexico, four and a half billion barrels; northern South America, including Bolivia and the Argentine Republic, three and a half billion; with an unknown reserve in Canada, probably greatest in the Mackenzie river valley. The total reserves in the New World are about 22,000,000,000 barrels of 42 gallons to the barrel.

In the Old World, the total reserves are somewhat smaller, aggregating 21,250,000,000 barrels. The principal fields are those of Russia and Siberia (largely controlled at present by the bolsheviks) with about six billion barrels; those of Mesopotamia and Persia, under British control, six billions; the fields of The Netherlands East Indies, three billion; of China, with more than one and a quarter billion barrels. There are also some reserves in India and Italy.

The United States is demanding more and more oil in its industrial activities, together with a vast amount for motor vehicles. The shipping board will use 60,000,000 barrels for its vessels in 1921—provided the present strike is settled quickly. By 1925, experts figure, more than 600,000,000 barrels will be required annually in the United States. The total "possible" produc-
